

play it again

Your cameras are working. But will the evidence they capture be there when you need it?

Honeywell's newest multi-channel embedded DVR, the HRXD Series, lets you play it again and again. The HRXD captures all the action by recording up to 240 high resolution images per second on 9 or 16 channels. And our exclusive XtraStor compression technology stores video for longer periods of time using less storage space. Its intuitive front panel, easy to use mouse and infrared remote control simplify operation, and our innovative RASplus software controls PTZ cameras from any PC. Be confident that the evidence you record will be there—whenever you need it.
